ROBISON BILL IS STATE ROAD KEY

PASSAGE BY SENATE INSURES AID TO KENTUCKY, HIGHWAY HEAD INFORMED.

Frankfort, Ky., July 11.—If the Robison Federal Aid bill, which provides for the continuation of existing federal aid projects, passes the Senate, Magoffin county citizens will obtain an outlet for their products to Paintsville, Calloway Howard, Salyersville, was informed by the State Highway Commission today.

The county voted $125,000 bonds and has $75,000 to apply on the 16 mile federal aid project through the county to the Johnson line. The county wants 4 miles from Salyersville to the Johnson line built, as Johnson has money raised for the construction to Paintsville.

Mr. Posey, the district engineer, said he counted 739 teams on the road one day, and Mr. Howard stated it cost $1.90 a hundred to freight merchandise from the railroad on account of the condition of the road. It is impassable most of the year, he declared.

The continuance of the federal aid depends upon whether the Robison or Townsend bill is passed by the Senate. It was explained to Mr. Howard, the Townsend bill purposes transcontinental automobile highways from New York to San Francisco and from Chicago to Miami, while the Robison bill, backed by farmers' organizations, is intended to complete work already under way in all States.—Courier Journal.

TO THE VOTERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY:

Very respectfully yours,

LIGHTNING KILLS PETER ALARA

FORT GAY MAN SUDDENLY CALLED INTO ETERNITY AT MT. HOPE.

Peter Alara was instantly killed Tuesday of this week at Mt. Hope, W. Va., by a stroke of lightning. He was at work in a stone quarry with a number of other men. A severe electrical storm came up and they all sought shelter. Mr. Alara took refuge under a tree. Lightning struck the tree and shattered it, killing Mr. Alara.

His home was at Fort Gay, W. Va., where the body has been brought for burial in the Frazier burial grounds. He was about 55 years old and leaves a wife and five children, three girls and two boys.

Mr. Alara was a native of Italy who came here many years ago, when the locks were being constructed in Big Sandy river. He was a stone cutter. He married Miss Jennie Poole, near Port Gay, and lived there most of the time since. His line of work has kept him away of late years. He was an industrious man and a good citizen.

INJUNCTION SUIT.

The Lobaco company and the Louisa Water & Improvement company are having a controversy based upon the latter charging more than the franchise rate for water. An injunction was procured by the Lobaco company to prevent the water supply being cut off from its plant. The water company cut it off anyway and both sides journeyed to Sandy Hook to place the matter before Judge Cisco, who ordered the water service to be resumed immediately. The injunction is to be tried before Judge Cisco at Grayson next Wednesday.

STREET PAVING.

A larger supply of asphalt is now promised to the Louisa contractor and the work of putting on the top of the street paving should go forward more rapidly than heretofore. Asphalt is being laid on Water street alongside the public square.

The curb and gutter work will be completed within a short time. G. W. Castle is laying the curb and gutter on the street alongside his residence property.

LITTLE CHILD DIES.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Vaughan Jr. of Lick creek, died Tuesday night. Mrs. Vaughan is a daughter of H. G. Hammers of Louisa. The child was about 18 months old.

Pike County Convict is Shot to Death

Pikeville, Ky., July 11.—Fitzhugh Moore, an escaped inmate of the Kentucky House of Reform, Greendale, was shot and killed late Sunday by Fred Tackett in an altercation on Coon's Branch, Island creek, this county. It was learned today.

Tackett, Wilburn Hall, Moore and his father were on horseback at the time of the shooting. All were drunk. It is said, and Tackett began shooting at random. An altercation in which Moore was fatally wounded, followed, according to accounts.

Fitzhugh Moore, Bershaw Moore, his brother, and Anthony Moore, a cousin, were sentenced to eight years in the State Reformatory from Floyd county in 1919 for manslaughter. Gov. John D. Black commuted the sentence of Fitzhugh Moore to two years, and the boys were transferred to Greendale, Pikeville, and his cousin, Anthony, escaped August 11, 1920.

Fitzhugh Moore married after his escape.

A request made to the superintendent of the reform school to permit the brother, Bershaw, to attend the funeral was refused.

DEATH OF YOUNG HARRY COOKSEY

Harry B. Cooksey 11-year old son of I. B. Cooksey died Sunday night at his home in Huntington, W. Va., after an illness of a few days with peritonitis. He was born at Soldier, Ky., and had lived in Huntington the past year where he was a pupil at Cabell school and regular attendant at Sunday school.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock at the residence, 1038 Jefferson avenue. Burial took place in the Ashland cemetery.

His parents, four sisters and three brothers survive.

Mr. Cooksey, his father, who is in business in Louisa was called home by the boy's illness. L. E. Cooksey went to Huntington Monday and remained until after the funeral on Tuesday.

Much sympathy is felt and expressed for the parents and relatives in the severe loss of this bright boy.

WAYNE COUNTY WOMAN LIVING AT AGE 92.

Mrs. Amanda Osburn, age 92, lives at Wayne, W. Va., and is still active. She is the mother of W. L. Mansfield, now of Florida, and of Jos. Mansfield, a Congressman from Texas. Also, Chas. E. Walker, Circuit Clerk, is her son.

A NEW BUSINESS BUILDING STARTED

MAIN CROSS STREET TO BE IMPROVED BY HANDSOME BRICK STRUCTURE.

Dr. C. E. Walters has broken ground for a handsome new business building on Main Cross street, on the lot known years ago as the Leo Frank property. It is between the Hotel Brunswick and the law office on Mrs. Hannah Lackey's lot.

The building is to be of brick, two stories in height, 55 feet front, modern in all respects. There will be two rooms on the first floor. One has been rented to Huntington parties for a drug store and the room will be specially fitted for that business. Modern fixtures will be installed.

The other room has been leased for a picture show. The floor will get a picture slope by excavating toward the rear. The arrangement will be up to date.

On the second floor there will be a number of office rooms for rent. Dr. Walters will have his offices there. H. H. Queen, of the Eastern Kentucky Lumber & Supply Company, an experienced builder, will have supervision of the construction.

J. L. Richmond began the excavation Wednesday with a steam shovel. The date set for completion of the building is in October.

FRUIT CROP A FAILURE.

The nearest complete failure of fruit and berry crops in this section with in the memory of the present generation has occurred this year. Even blackberries are so scarce that only a few people in Louisa have been able to get any. There are no apples or peaches. The strawberry crop was a complete failure. Sugar is cheaper than it has been for six years but there is nothing to "put up" in the way of preserves and jellies.

F. C. HALL TO GET POST.

On recommendation of Representative John W. Langley, Fred C. Hall of Prestonsburg will be appointed by Collector Lucas as division deputy in the internal revenue service, with headquarters at Ashland.

Gas Rate at Ironton Upheld by Court

Columbus, O., July 5.—People of Ironton will continue to pay the present rate for natural gas until a 25-year franchise granted by the Council in 1897 runs out. This is the result of the decision of the Ohio Supreme Court, which affirmed the action of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission in dismissing an appeal from the city ordinance of Ironton to the commission. The Court followed the Cincinnati Gas case in a decision in which a franchise contract was held safe from attack as a valid contract which must be observed.

In November, 1919, the gas company was supplying gas to Ironton under a 25-year franchise granted to predecessors of the gas company December 6, 1897, section 5 of franchise ordinance providing a maximum rate of 27 1/2 cents for each 1,000 feet, less 2 1/2 cents discount. November 19, 1909, 15-year rate ordinance passed and accepted by company, stipulating same price for gas. November 24, 1919, Council passed another rate ordinance for three years at same rate, which the company refused to accept, but filed complaint on appeal to Public Utilities Commission.

The decision will save the people of Ironton from higher gas rates until 1922, when the original 25-year ordinance will expire. The decision indicates that the intermediate rate ordinances, including the last one, were not necessary, since the original franchise contract covered the issue.

ELLIOTT COUNTY COURT IS LIVELY

Sandy Hook, the county seat of Elliott, has been a lively place for two weeks, according to reports from there.

It is said the Sheriff is in jail and that other county officials are under indictment and bond.

The soldiers from Lawrence county are assisting in arrests and moonshine raids.

Gordon Endicott, of Louisa, was accidentally shot through the hand and is at home. It is reported that another trooper, Hoover Hall, accidentally discharged a revolver, in the courthouse, the ball passing through the edge of his shoe sole. The report of a soldier being killed is untrue.

Moonshining seems to be the favorite pastime in Elliott, but Judge Cisco takes it more seriously and is cleaning up on the business.

2 Alleged Moonshiners Slain by Raiders, Report

Pikeville, Ky., July 12.—Wilburn Hall, an alleged bootlegger, and a companion were shot to death yesterday at White Rock, Ky., by revenue officers from Virginia, according to word received here. Nelson Mullins was wounded at the same time, it was said. The shooting occurred during a raid on the Kentucky-Virginia border.

N. Y. PROFESSOR'S TOAST TO KENTUCKY

Last summer Prof. Chas. H. Richardson of Syracuse University, chair of Geology, made a trip through the Big Sandy valley for the Kentucky Geological Department, examining the deposits of glass sand. He spent a short time at Louisa and found a huge deposit of fine glass sand here. This paper had a report of the fact last year.

After returning home Prof. Richardson wrote the following verses, which we are sure will be read with interest by our people:

A Toast to Old Kentucky

Down where the mountains are just a little lower,
Down where the natives move just a little slower,
Down where the bluegrass waves just a little bluer,
Down where the girls' hearts are just a little truer,
That's where Kentucky comes in.

Down where the coal seams are just a little thicker,
Down where the Morgan mares are just a little slicker,
Down where the blackest man is just a coal miner,
Down where the moonshine is just a little finer,
That's where Kentucky comes in.

Down where the oil pools rise a little higher,
Down where most men take a little fier,
Down where the leases come a little dearer,
Down where the howdy draws a little nearer,
That's where Kentucky comes in.

Down where tobacco covers all the plain,
Down where the corn bread comes again and again,
Down where the chiggers bite just a little harder,
Down where the chickens fill the old home yard,
That's where Kentucky comes in.

Down where the song-birds sing just a little sweeter,
Down where the lassies dress just a little neater,
Down where the home fires burn just a little brighter,
Down where life's burden seems just a little lighter,
That's where Kentucky comes in.

Down where woman's virtue is just a little purer,
Down where heaven seems just a little surer,
Down where Lincoln's boyhood feet once trod,
Down where the human heart is just a little nearer God,
That's where Kentucky comes in.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 4, 1920.

Reporting on Building Stone.

Prof. Richardson was in Louisa Wednesday of this week, going on to other points up the valley. He is giving part of his summer vacation to the service of the Kentucky department again. This time he is examining building stone in Eastern Kentucky.

While in Louisa he was shown around by Col. Northup and also by some young members of the S. A. E. College fraternity, of which he is a member. He found some excellent building stone deposits in the hills surrounding Louisa. His report later will be of value to the people here.

ERNST'S HIGHWAY STAND MYSTIFIES

REPORTED BACKING OF BILL OHIO WANTS AGAINST ROBISON MEASURE STIRS PETITIONERS.

The following article in the Courier Journal is of vital interest to Big Sandy people:

Frankfort, Ky., July 12.—Mountain Republicans are undertaking to "smoke out" Senator Richard P. Ernst, Covington, on the Federal Highway bill as a prominent Eastern Kentucky member of the Republican party said while here. He says the Senator is suspected of being influenced by Cincinnati sentiment in favor of the Townsend measure for the construction of Federal Highway links between New York and San Francisco, and Chicago and Miami to the despair of intra-state Federal aid projects in Kentucky and elsewhere.

The Ohio Road Commission is said to be one of the few state bodies supporting the Townsend Bill, Ohio, Pennsylvania and several of the large Eastern and Central Western States would acquire some magnificent automobile boulevards under the Townsend plan, it is said.

All the Kentucky delegation, excepting Mr. Ernst, are said to favor the Robison bill, the compromise House measure, which takes the name of the Eleventh District Congressman and provides for the continuation of the present projects.

Many Projects Waiting.

Mr. Ernst's supposed attitude in opposition to a bill fathered by a Republican Congressman from his own State has added to the zeal with which Kentucky highway enthusiasts are getting up petitions to show their Senator where they stand.

Some of the mountain projects, with local money partly raised and waiting action of Congress for work to begin are:

The entire Mayo Trail up Sandy Valley from Ashland to Pikeville, already financed locally; the cross-mountain road, connecting the Midland at Mount Sterling with the Mayo Trail at Paintsville, giving Menifee, Morgan and Magoffin an outlet to the railroad, and financed with bond issues as far as Magoffin and Johnson are concerned; the road from Winchester through Powell, Breathitt and Perry to Whitesburg, and the southern mountain route from the Dixie Highway at Corbin by way of Barbourville, Pineville, Harlan and Whitesburg to the Mayo Trail at Pikeville.

The Ohio River Road from Paducah to Louisville, the Midland Trail from Ashland to Wickliffe, the Jackson Highway from Louisville south into Tennessee, and the Central Highway and Dixie Bee Line in Western Kentucky are Federal aid projects now partly under construction.

Robison Bill Strongly Backed.

The Kentucky State Highway Commission has endorsed the Robison bill, which passed the House. Farmers' organizations, maintaining headquarters at Washington, are backing the Robison bill. They assert that automobile manufacturers are backing the Townsend measure and that the proposed transcontinental highways will be delightful for pleasure tourists. The farmers' slogan in support of the Robison bill, however, is "farm to market highways first."

These organizations are soliciting petitions to Senators and Congressmen in behalf of the Robison bill. Delegations from a score of counties, who have called on the State Highway Commission to learn when Federal aid projects they have been told it depends on the action of Congress.

Naturally, this feeling is more intense in Eastern Kentucky. Mr. Robison lives there; the people are Republicans and so is Mr. Ernst. Moreover, they are locked in about nine months of the year by bad roads, remote from railroads and paying enormous overland freight bills. Two dollars for 100 pounds is not an unusual price for wagon hauls from the nearest railroad stations. Where the people have voted bond issues, hoping with Federal aid to get passable roads and reduce the cost of living, the idea of diverting Federal aid to the construction of paved highways through wealthy Northern States for automobile tourists is bitterly resented, according to reports from that section and petitions, signed by thousands of citizens will be hurried to Washington.

Mingo Inquiry Starts In Washington

Washington, July 13.—Investigation of recent disorders and present conditions in the Mingo coal field of West Virginia ordered several days ago by the senate, will be started today by the senate educational and labor subcommittee.

The operators and the miners of the Mingo field have been asked by Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, chairman of the committee, to present six witnesses each. On the basis of the testimony offered by these witnesses the committee will determine the future course of the inquiry and whether a visit will be made to the region involved.

ATTENTION OF CANDIDATES.

All candidates for county offices must file their expense accounts with the county clerk by July 22. This is very important.

BLACK BEAUTY

WOMEN GIVE OUT

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Louisa woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Louisa woman's experience:

Mrs. J. M. Rankin, Watco Sta. says: "I had a pretty severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble last year and I was up one day and down the next, as my back was so painful. I was dizzy and my head ached fit to split. My feet and ankles swelled, too, and I was in bad shape during the whole year, unfit for any kind of housework. Everything I undertook to do was a drag to me. My kidneys didn't act regularly, either. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and sent to the Louisa Drug Store Co. for a box. After using them I got rid of my trouble. I am now as healthy as ever."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rankin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A case has been discovered in which Gov. Morrow can not grant a pardon. It is that of the 13-year old boy who killed Frank McGrath, of Louisville, recently, with an automobile. The Attorney General says the Governor can not pardon the boy.

President Harding made a special address to the Senate Tuesday asking that the bonus bill for the soldiers of the world war be sent back to the committee to sleep until some future time. He says the U. S. Treasury can not supply money for a soldier bonus. The demands for other purposes being too heavy.

In voting for candidates in the primary the citizens should select the men most competent to give good service and honest enough to do it. No greater mistake can be made than to put men into office who have not demonstrated business ability and integrity. It is a loss to every citizen to entrust public affairs to men who are failures in life.

Dr. McVey, President of State University, has received a flattering offer from the University of Missouri and may leave Kentucky. Those interested in education are alarmed about it. Kentucky University needs a great deal of money to make it what it should be, and if Dr. McVey leaves it will be because he sees no prospect of getting enough money to meet the demands of the institution. Kentucky needs to awaken.

The new tariff bill that Congress has before it and will pass, fixes higher rates than any law ever enacted. The percentages do not tell the whole story. The tariff is figured upon the American valuation of the goods rather than the lower valuation of the foreign country. It was shown in Congress during the discussion that some articles will have a tariff tax of 1400 per cent. This means no imports, no revenue, high prices to consumers and big profits to manufacturers while their factories run.

New Tariff Bill.

In Congress Wednesday Representative Carey of New York, a Democratic member of the committee, attacked the American valuation policy embodied in the tariff bill and also departed from discussion of the bill's details to declare that the country's interest in the tariff was lagging to the point where it no longer regarded congressional action on the measure in a serious manner.

Marine Considered.

The possible effect the rate would have on the war-built merchant marine was touched on by several Democrats, Representative Kincheloe, of Kentucky, especially inquiring whether the Republican party was going "to kill the fleet again."

No ships could continue in operation

if they were able to handle cargoes only outbound, he continued, adding that the "prohibitive rates" drawn by the Republicans would have that result. The Republicans were also taken to task by Representative Huddleston, of Alabama, for what he described as a willingness on their part to "open the treasury to the railroads again." The party leaders, he declared, appeared not to be content with "the raids allowed by the transportation act," and would not refuse the "unlimited demands which the railroads now are making."

"We have the spectacle," he continued, "of the President practically directing the senate not to pass the soldier bonus bill. We will also have the spectacle, if the party follows the White House direction, of giving not one cent to the soldiers, but millions to the railroads."

To The Voters of
Lawrence County:

The writer desires to make a few remarks or suggestions with reference to the choosing of some good progressive business man whose ability, connected with his honesty, uprightness and popularity, would enable him to win the nomination before the Democratic primary for County Judge of Lawrence county and then go on and win the election in November, and I ask of the voters, both ladies and gentlemen, to ponder over my remarks and see how nearly in line they are.

Fellow voters, in the judgment of the best thinking people, (both democrats and republicans) the fiscal as well as the public improvement affairs of our county have for the past several terms been mismanaged and to correct this evil and to secure the proper reforms and public improvements requisite to bringing our county up to the standard of some of its sister counties, it certainly behooves us to go to casting about for the man who measures up to the job before we tie ourselves by promise to some palavering candidate who is unable to deliver the services which we are justly and honestly entitled to.

(1) We should find out which candidate honestly is entitled to our vote.

(2) We should then find out what we are to receive in return for the trust that we bestow upon him as well as the money that we promise to pay him.

(3) Is his morals such that the voters would not in the future suffer any regrets for having cast their ballot for him?

(4) Is his integrity above reproach and could the fiscal affairs of our county be safely entrusted to his care?

(5) Has he been successful in the management of his own business and is his gauge sufficiently broad to enable him to successfully handle the affairs of Lawrence county?

(6) Will he personally supervise the construction of roads and bridges over the different parts of the county and will he allow a prorata part of the taxes collected from each precinct to be expended back on its roads in said precinct?

(7) Is he in harmony with his own party and can he strictly upon his own standing as a citizen, draw from the opposition party sufficient strength to overcome about 300 votes that the republican party is in the lead?

Undoubtedly Lawrence county has a candidate in one or the other of the opposing parties that measures up to these requirements, and fellow citizens and voters, we certainly owe it to our families, ourselves, county, state and nation to vote for good men and good measures; the best writers tell us to do this and should we fail we punish ourselves and county by refusing to follow the advice of our best people.

The hiring of public servants should be judged by just as much scrutiny as if you yourself had taken a contract to erect a bridge across the two rivers at Louisa and were on the lookout to privately hire an architect to properly construct said bridge.

In the judgment of the writer as the result of the failure of the past to handle the affairs of Lawrence county to the expectation of its citizens the people should nominate and elect a man who has made a success in the management of his own private business and not be taking chances on some fellow who has utterly failed to manage a little business of his own. The writer does not know anything near the approximate amount of the yearly expenditures of Lawrence county but he judges it to be a quarter of a million or more dollars and to trust this amount it might be to some

POULTRY DEMONSTRATIONS

Plans are being made by County Agent G. C. Baker in co-operation with the Extension Division of the College of Agriculture for a series of 5 poultry culling demonstrations which will be held August 12 on different farms for the purpose of showing farmers and their wives of Lawrence county how to tell the loafing hen from the heavy-laying one, according to an announcement which he made today.

According to poultry specialists, approximately one-third of the hens on Kentucky farms molt during July and August and stop laying until the following spring. Certain characteristics which these loafers show makes it easy to tell them from the heavy-laying hen, County Agent Baker said.

Farmers from different communities will meet on a certain farm in that section where poultry specialists from the College of Agriculture will assist County Agent Baker in giving the demonstration. Loafers and heavy-laying hens from the flock on the farm will be selected and the farmers and their wives shown the difference between the two. Circulars will also be distributed and the process of culling explained in detail so that the poultry owners can return to their own flocks and eliminate the hens that are not laying.

G. W. CASTLE HARD AT WORK.

Fallsburg, Kentucky.

I was in Louisa the other day and found our candidate for County Attorney, G. W. Castle, hard at work on a contract paving the streets round his property with a force of men, and I asked him if he was doing much electioneering and he replied that he was doing all he could under the circumstances, that the paving had to be done right, that just as soon as he could get his work in condition he was going out and see the people in as many sections as he could reach and expressed deep concern about his race, and believed that the people knew him and that they would remember him and give him a trial as their County Attorney.

We, the people, know of his qualification and ability to fill this office to the complete satisfaction of all concerned and so far as this section we certainly will give him a rousing vote at the primary.

REPORT OF STATE COMMISSION

Governor Heartily Commends Recommendations Made After Months of Study

State Educational Commission sitting in the office of Mr. Alexander G. Barret, its Secretary.

The Preliminary Report of the Commission With Governor's Approval Across the Bottom Is Given Below

Hon. Edwin P. Morrow,
Governor of Kentucky,
Frankfort, Kentucky.

Sir:

The Commission appointed by you pursuant to the act approved March 23, 1920 to make a survey of the public educational system of the State and to "report its findings with recommendations for improvement," to the Governor, has completed its field work and is now engaged in preparing its report which will be in your hands prior to the meeting of the next Legislature. We have already proceeded far enough to call your attention to one feature of our system, the improvement of which is fundamental to the future development of our schools.

The upbuilding of a sound system of public schools which will give our children educational opportunities worthy of the State and which will give country boys and girls as good educational opportunities as are enjoyed by city boys and girls depends at bottom on efficiency and continuity of administration. The cities are more or less independent. They choose their superintendents of schools on the basis of competence. The care and direction of the country schools is in the hands of the County Superintendents and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The County Superintendents are now for the first time chosen by the County Boards of Education, — a great step in advance. The State Superintendent alone remains a political officer. The interest of our schools demands that the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall cease to be a political office and that our schools cease to be administered on political lines. The State Superintendent should be an educator whose qualifications and term should be fixed by the Legislature or by a Board of Education created by the Legislature.

At the general election, next November, there will be submitted to the voters of the State two constitutional amendments, one taking the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction out of the list of elected state officers, the other freeing a part of the public school funds to equalize educational opportunities and to encourage needed improvements. Unless these two amendments are adopted our hands are tied and educational progress in Kentucky is doomed to be exceedingly slow.

We recommend through you to the people of the State that the active help of every person and every organization, educational, agricultural, commercial and industrial, be given to the passing of these two constitutional amendments so decisively that the whole State will realize that we have started upon a program that will give both city and country boys and girls educational opportunities as good as those provided by any State in the Union.

Very respectfully,

KENTUCKY EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION

Producer Seeks to Secure Increased Prices and Consumer Wants Better Products—Agreement Should Be Fair to Both.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

As the object of parcel post dealing is to obtain slightly increased prices for the producer and better products at the same price, or the same class of products at lower prices, for the consumer, the question of arriving at prices fair to both is important, and also difficult, say marketing specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

It is not likely, at least not for some time to come, that eggs will be marketed so largely by parcel post that the ordinary market quotations can not be depended upon in arriving at prices.

It should be comparatively easy for a producer and a consumer to agree upon stipulated market quotations as the basis for determining prices. A consumer may desire 5 dozen eggs a week, the price to be an agreed-upon figure above the wholesale quotation for the best grade of eggs on the market that week. The necessary relations in this matter can be maintained only by scrupulous honesty and mutual trust.

The nature of the agreement between the producer and the consumer, whether reduced to writing or not, should be made to suit the circumstances and be fair to both. Perhaps the first agreement should be in writing; but later, if mutual confidence and trust have been thoroughly established, the contract may be verbal.

The matter of frequency and method of payment can be arranged in various ways. For the first agreement term, which may be a year or less, cash in advance might be satisfactory, until a definite system of orders and payments is established.

For the reason that eggs are abundant in the spring and scarce in the autumn and early winter, the contract should specify the quantities to be supplied each week throughout the year. The producer making an agreement with a consumer should undertake to replace or allow rebates for eggs lost by breakage in shipping.

BEST VEGETABLES TO PLANT

Many Beginners Make Mistake of Planting Everything in Catalogue—Pulverize Soil.

Some beginners in gardening become very enthusiastic in early spring when they look through seed catalogues. They have a desire to plant every kind of vegetable elaborately described and favorably illustrated. As a rule not more than 15 or 20 kinds of vegetables should be planted in the average home garden, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Few beginners also realize the importance of well-prepared seed beds. Pulverize the soil as deeply as it is plowed. If the soil is coarse and lumpy, even though its surface is well broken up, the plants will not thrive. Large air spaces in the soil are injurious, but a great number of small ones are beneficial.

BUY EGGS ON QUALITY BASIS

Uniform Color, Size, Clean and Fresh Product Will Command High Figure on Market.

Nearly all market poultry and egg buyers are now buying on a quality basis. A case of good eggs of uniform color, averaging two ounces to the egg, clean, sound and fresh, produced by a flock of standard-bred hens, is worth more than a case of mixed white and brown eggs of odd sizes and qualities, laid by odd chickens in a scrub flock.

GOOD TREES FOR WINDBREAK

Black Mill Spruce or White Spruce Are Fine Evergreens—Willow and Poplar Grow Quickly.

Send in an order for enough trees for a good windbreak. Black Mill spruce or White spruce are good evergreens to use. Willow, Norway poplar and even Box elder are quick growing but not lasting trees.

Bonehead!
Hubby did not like the appearance of the cook a friend had sent them, so, taking his wife aside, he said, "Don't hire her."
"But," remonstrated his better half, "just think of the reputation for cooking she bears."
"Never mind about her ability to cook she bears," said he. "We don't eat 'em anyway."

Getting Practical.
"You know Bobbins, the tenor, who used to sing to Miss Skeezicks that every morn he would bring her violets?"
"Yes; did he?"
"That's what he did, and they got married; and now they're living in the country where every morn he has to bring her two buckets of water and help wipe the dishes!"

Un-Merriment.
"Wouldn't you like to see an old-fashioned comic opera with a chorus of merry villagers?"
"No," replied the census expert. "It would be too untrue to life. Everybody seems to think that in order to be happy he must move into town. There's no such thing as a merry villager."

Dangerous Game.
"Do you like golf?" asked one of the players at a recent club tournament.
"Yes, but it's a dangerous game," replied one of the semi-finalists.
"Dangerous? Why?"
"I took it up to take my mind off my work; now I have to work hard to take my mind off golf."

The Human Voice.
"The trouble with the motion picture," said the critic, "is that it does not bring out the thrilling power of the human voice."
"It doesn't, eh?" exclaimed the eminent producer. "You ought to come over to our studio and hear the stage director and the stars bawling one another out."

WHO HAS THEM FOR SALE?
Young Mrs. Nurich (to Nurseryman): I want some breadfruit trees sent up to our place at once. I'm sure they'll help to reduce the high cost of food.
Nurseryman (ignorant, but game): Very sorry, madam, but they've been in such demand we haven't a tree left.

Tightwad Blows.
The tightwad as he strolls around "Upon this globe of sin, Perchance may blow about his dust— But he never blows it in."

Progressive Town.
"I see," remarked a gentleman as he paid a small newsboy for his paper, "that you are putting up a good many new buildings in town."
"That is the only kind we put up here, sir," replied the little fellow, with a touch of civic pride.—Judge.

Doubtful Experiment.
"Josh promised me he wouldn't smoke cigarettes till he was twenty-one years old."
"And after that?"
"He had lost any taste for cigarettes. He had learned to smoke a pipe."

A Census Puzzle.
Friend—According to the last census there are 100,000 persons in my town.
Scenario Editor—Something must be wrong. I get more than that many scenarios from there every week.

Out Joy Riding.
"Are your 'T-d Time Stories for the Children' going well?"
"Not so very well. Some editors refuse to run them, because in these days, they say, the children come in after mother has retired."

Difference.
Dedbet—Somebody raised the amount on the last check I sent out.
Offenstuck—Congratulations, old man. I couldn't raise a nickel on the one you gave me.—Legion Weekly.

Modern Life.
"Do you help your wife with the dishes?"
"No."
"There isn't room for both of us in the kitchenette."

Going Up.
"He tried a dozen jobs in as many years. Nobody ever thought he'd be good for anything."
"Well, he fooled 'em. Now he's an efficiency expert."

The Helpful World.
Give the young and struggling a word of encouragement when you can. You would not leave those plants in your window boxes without water nor refuse to open the shutters that the sunlight might fall upon them; but you would leave some human flower to suffer from want of appreciation or the sunlight of encouragement. There are a few hardy souls that can struggle along on stony soil—shrubs that can wait for the dews and sunbeams, vines that climb without kindly training; but only a few utter the kind word when you can see that it is deserved. The thought that no one cares and no one knows, blights many a bud of promise. Be it the young artist at its easel, the young preacher in his pulpit, the workman at his bench, the boy at his mathematical problems, or your little girl at the piano, give what praise you can.

In this vacation season be sure you take a vacation from your troubles and worries. Leave them behind as the most useless of all your baggage. Away—away with all forebodings. Light laden, go forth among nature. Loom up toward the sky so brilliantly with ten-thousand stars joining hands of light with the earth in the ring, going round and round with gleam and dance and song, making old time himself feel young again.

Go to the woods where the cool and sifted breeze is scented with nature's fragrance and sweet with nature's songs.
Go to where the streams leap down off the rocks and their crystal heels clatter and glisten over the pure white pebbles.
Hark to the fluttering of the wind and the long-meter psalm of the thunder. Hear the fairy patter of the fairy-footed rain dancing on the awaying leaves.
Look at the morning striding down the hills routing the skulking shadows. See evening drawing aside the curtain from heaven's wall of jasper, sardonyx and amethyst.
Look on all this and feel that God's in His place and there's room in your soul for peace.

The deadliest error that can mislead young men is that in order to know the world he must disregard home restrictions and sow wild oats. The son who sows wild oats will reap a harvest of shame. Nay, more, he will compel his father and mother to reap with him and be sharers of his shame. Every son needs to be careful of his character. It is the capital with which he enters business or begins a professional career. If it is shoddy or spotted the best man will shun him as a deadly poison.

You look at the housewife who has a place for her things, and these things in their places, and you find a woman who is systematic in her work; and when she needs anything she can put her hands on it in a moment. She plans and calculates when ever there is to be extra work, extra cooking, extra washing, etc. and she knows before hand just what there is to do, and what she wants to do it with. And this same woman, so exact in her doings, gets more time to rest and read and instruct her children in the paths of right and the social duties they owe to all. If you are of this class, you receive the blessing of your husband, and the praise of all who know you.

Among all elevating influences that of a happy home is the most permanent. Every ideal home must possess beauty as well as cleanliness and kindness. Every happy home should shed its refining influence abroad. Every good home is an educator and adds immeasurably to the sum of human happiness. Every home should be a faithful guardian of public morality, the surest safeguard of the public's future.

Our forefathers of three generations had a much more pleasant method of celebrating the glorious Fourth than the advanced urchin of today, with his hysterical vortex of booming, snapping, thundering, cracking and crashing sounds. Contrasted with the violent celebration of this up-to-date age, the Fourth of July of fifty or a hundred years ago presented a peaceful picture of hearty patriotism, more in keeping with the real sentiment of the event than the present blustering fashion.

FOUR SMILING GIRLS.

IN MEMORY

With the cycle sweep of years that are ever passing by, God is casting in the death sickle which always takes away one who is dear to some one.

Mrs. Martha Moore, our dear mother, departed this life May 6, 1921. She was a loving mother and kind to everybody.

She leaves a husband, five boys and two girls, Ephraim Moore, Zelma, James, Moore, of Fallsburg; Green Moore of Potter; Lindsey Moore of Yatesville; John Moore of Dennis; Mrs. Mary Workman, Radnor, W. Va.; and Jennie Christian of Dennis.

Dear friends, weep not, for dear mother is only asleep. We will meet her again in the resurrection morning where parting will be no more.

Mother said when she was dying she was just waiting for the Lord to call her and now she is resting in the arms of Jesus. She will be missed in her home, but thank God we do not have to mourn for her as those that have no hope. May God bless father, brothers, sisters that we all may meet mother again.

Some day I'll meet dear mother upon that starry plain where she'll not be afflicted, but she'll be well again. Then I'll sit down beside her in that eternal day and tell her how I missed her, since she had been away.

Contract For Bridge.

The Johnson County Fiscal Court has let a contract with the Champion Bridge Company for a bridge across Big Sandy river at the mouth of Paint creek. This contract was for $50,000, the amount recently appropriated by the court for this bridge out of the road bonds voted by the county last year.

This bridge will not only help Paintsville but will be a convenient thing for the people living on the east side of the river. Roads connecting to this bridge will be built in all directions and this progressive movement will be followed by similar ones.

Johnson county as well as the other counties of the valley are just awakening to the fact that they must have good roads if they expect Big Sandy to keep step with the rapid progress of the country.

The Big Sandy valley is behind other sections of the country only in roads. If the valley had good roads business would be much better and all the people would be more prosperous and happier.

The bomber, piloted by Lieut. C. R. Melve and T. H. Dunston, attached to the Langley (Va.) Sixteen automobiles were burned and trapped victims in the machines. Others were burned and injured to the number of a score, requiring surgical attention in local hospitals.

The pilots of the bomber, who were taking it to Langley Field where it was to be installed into service, escaped was burned face and hands, after being extricated from the wreckage by Carl Miller, coach at Bethany College, and Sgt. Roy Duley, on duty at the local field. Duley also suffered from numerous burns in rescuing the pilots and had his hair burned from his scalp.

The monetary loss in the accident will reach $100,000, it is said. The automobiles burned were estimated at $20,000 and the bomber at $80,000.

Contract For Bridge.

The Johnson County Fiscal Court has let a contract with the Champion Bridge Company for a bridge across Big Sandy river at the mouth of Paint creek. This contract was for $50,000, the amount recently appropriated by the court for this bridge out of the road bonds voted by the county last year.

This bridge will not only help Paintsville but will be a convenient thing for the people living on the east side of the river. Roads connecting to this bridge will be built in all directions and this progressive movement will be followed by similar ones.

Johnson county as well as the other counties of the valley are just awakening to the fact that they must have good roads if they expect Big Sandy to keep step with the rapid progress of the country.

Contract For Bridge.

The Johnson County Fiscal Court has let a contract with the Champion Bridge Company for a bridge across Big Sandy river at the mouth of Paint creek. This contract was for $30,000, the amount recently appropriated by the court for this bridge out of the road bonds voted by the county last year.

This bridge will not only help Paintsville but will be a convenient thing for the people living on the east side of the river. Roads connecting to this bridge will be built in all directions and this progressive movement will be followed by similar ones.

Johnson county as well as the other counties of the valley are just awakening to the fact that they must have good roads if they expect Big Sandy to keep step with the rapid progress of the country.

The Big Sandy valley is behind other sections of the country only in roads. If the valley had good roads business would be much better and all the people would be more prosperous and happier.
